24. CONSTRAINTS & GEOLOGIC HAZARDS NOTE: A "Geology and Soils Report for Riverbend Crossing, Filings No. 1 and 2, Fountain, Colorado", was completed by RMG - Rocky Mountain Group, last amended on September 9, 2021, Job No. 161921. The overall development area has been found to be impacted by these geologic constraints: expansive soils and bedrock, compressive soils, and groundwater. The constraints listed are not considered hazards, nor are they considered unusual for the Front Range region of Colorado. According to the report, conventional shallow foundations consisting of a standard/spread footing/stemwalls are suitable for the proposed residential structures. Expansive soils, bedrock and/or compressive soils will require mitigation as indicated in a site-specific Subsurface Soil Investigation. Basement foundations should be avoided on Lots 9-16 within Filing No. 1. Perimeter drains are recommended around portions of the structures which will have below habitable space or storage space located below the finish ground surface. This includes crawlspaces areas but not the walkout trench, if applicable. Each perimeter drain should tie into the underdrain system. Appropriate surfaced grading and drainage should be established during construction and maintained (over the life of the structure) by the homeowner. Additional mitigation measures can be found in said report, PUDSP File #SF 1844, available at the El Paso County Planning and Community Development Department.
