Hi Stephen -

Thank you for sending your project information. I will assign this review to a biologist on Monday during our staff meeting. Please be advised that we may take up to 60 business days to send our response due to a shortage of staff; I sincerely apologize for the wait time.

A biologist will reach out if they have any questions. For future projects, please send your information to ColoradoES@fws.gov; this is our general inbox which is checked several times per week.
