Ms. Williams,

I write to you in regards to the proposed Meridian Ranch expansion. As a resident of this neighborhood I am appalled at how residents in this area found out there was such a proposal of an expansion. I would think character and integrity to one's potential new neighbors would have some reflection. Luckily one of our neighbors saw the notice while on a walk and posted it to NextDoor. The paper lay in an awkward area not common to neighborhood walks. Thank goodness it was brought to our attention.

My wife and I chose this area, as many others have, because of its quiet character and distance from big city life. We love our neighbors and their animals of such abundant variety. This is by its very nature why this community thrives. Adding nine dwellings per acre will bring increased human interaction with animals and will result in private property infractions and unsafe interactions with animals. This proposal will surely ruin that tranquility for myself, many others, and correct me if I am wrong, you as well.

We and many others like us rely on well water, and expansion of this magnitude will surely place us in a precarious position sooner than we want. Beyond water, there is a larger discussion for proposed road expansion, and what will those studies conclude, if any are even planned?

I ask you to Make a Choice in NOT allowing this expansion to go forward! This neighborhood was designed to be a hobby farm and equestrian community, and changes to that will create an unpleasant and unsafe community for our neighbors and the animals that reside here.
