Good Morning, I am Jeff Moore and have been a property owner at Meadow Lake airport for 21 years and have been involved at Meadow Lake for 25 years. There are some properties out here, like Protrans, that have operated outside the intended property use of aviation for a long time. While I don't support throwing them off the airport, I am very opposed to issuing variances for continued non aviation use of the property after the current owner/user moves on. Any variance issued should be tied directly to the current owner and operation, any change in owner or operation should be held to aviation use. Businesses and storage have many places they can go. Aircraft and aviation business can only be at airports.

Thank you
