

I am not sure if it is just rumors that are happening or if there are actually changes that the developer for flying horse north is trying to make but I want to go down as opposing any change to the flying horse north development from the original agreement. Five acres per house minimum land for each single house; no apartments complexes; no ½ acre land per house; no multiple dwelling units; and no changes from the original plat that was granted when they purchased the acreages. That developer has a track record in the first development as being definitely greedy and money hungry which does not necessarily lead to correct choices for the city and for the Black Forest community! We live in the Black forest because we don't want to have neighbors right next door, we want some space between everyone and that is why everyone who moved north in the county moved there, please say no to changes this developer has proposed and will propose and make them stay with their original agreement for our communities sake.

Respectfully
